DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The formal drawings filed 1/26/2004 are accepted by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-18, 21, and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent No. 6,148,813 to Barnes et al. ("Barnes") (cited by applicant).

Barnes discloses in Figures 1-7 the invention substantially as described in applicant's claims 1-18, 21, and 22. In particular, Barnes discloses an oven (2) and an extendable oven rack assembly that includes an oven rack (28), two full extension slides (77), opposing wire frames (see Fig. 3), a first bracket coupled to each slide and having a channel receiving a single cross-bar (117) of the wire frame and a second bracket coupled to each slide and having a channel and a ledge (see Figs. 4 and 5) wherein the extendable assembly functions to allow an oven rack to be moved from an position within the oven cavity to a position outside the oven cavity (see col. 1, lines 49-61). Barnes further discloses means for locking the extension slides in a pre-defined position (see notches 129 and 130 and col. 6, lines 15-33) and the sides of the rack frame are configured to rest on ledges (22, 23, 24, 25) on side walls of the oven cavity (see Fig. 1).

Art Unit: 3749

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barnes as applied to the claim 17 above in view of U.S. Patent No. 1,918,457 to Dowell ("Dowell").

Art Unit: 3749

Barnes discloses all the limitations of claims 19 and 20 except for a extending tab that forms a leaf spring configured to press against side walls of the oven cavity and further that the tab includes a plastic sleeve.

Dowell teaches an oven rack in the same field of endeavor as Barnes wherein the rack of Dowell includes spring clips (18) that form leaf springs that function to secure an oven rack within an oven cavity (see page 1, lines 79-86). The spring clips (18) further include a gasket (16) arranged between the clips and the oven walls. The examiner considers these gaskets to be the equivalent of the sleeves recite by applicant. Further, to have selected a well-known material, such as plastic, for the gaskets/sleeves, would be simply an obvious matter of design choice and is not considered to be patentably distinct absent the showing of some new or improved results over the prior art of record.

Therefore, in regard to claims 19 and 20, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the oven rack of Barnes; to incorporate the spring clips of Dowell for the desirable purpose of securing the oven rack within an oven cavity to prevent rattling or dislodgment of the rack (see Dowell, page 1, lines 59-62), and to incorporate the gasket/sleeve of Dowell as this gasket desirably functions to prevent marring of the oven cavity walls (see Dowell, page 1, lines 51-54).

Conclusion

7. This action is made non-final. A THREE month shortened statutory period for reply has been set. Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR

Art Unit: 3749

1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) months from the mailing date of this communication.
